The ingredients create an instant cooling effect, just like the instant cold packs, and form together into gel. The addition of the gel allows them to be reused as a gel pack later, making them more cost-effective. For re-use, place them in a freezer until needed.

Cold Packs | HowStuffWorks

The liquid inside the cold pack is water. In the water is another plastic bag or tube containing ammonium-nitrate fertilizer. When you hit the cold pack, it breaks the tube so that the water mixes with the fertilizer.
