Optical systems Quantum information theory quantum many

Optical systems are the most suitable physical systems for transmitting quantum information over large distance. What is more, recent years have seen a remarkable progress in the understanding of performing precise quantum state manipulation of optical systems, both in the discrete variable setting involving polarization or time-bin encoding as

Many body problem Wikipedia

A large number can be anywhere from 3 to infinity (in the case of a practically infinite, homogeneous or periodic system, such as a crystal), although three- and four-body systems can be treated by specific means (respectively the Faddeev and Faddeev-Yakubovsky equations) and are thus sometimes separately classified as few-body systems. In such a quantum system, the repeated interactions between particles create quantum correlations, or entanglement.
